5. An explanation of the rule, including the agency's reasons for initiating the rule:

Laws 2010, 2nd Regular Session, Ch. 287, § 28(B)(2) allows an agency to pursue rulemaking to avoid a violation of a federal law that would result in sanctions by the court or federal government to an agency for failure to conduct the rulemaking action.

On July 8, 2010, the Governor's office approved the Department's request to pursue rulemaking to implement amendments made to 50 CFR 21 and 22.

The Commission proposes to amend R12-4-422 to ensure compliance with federal regulations governing falconry, 50 CFR 21 and 22. Currently, members of the public participating in the sport of falconry are regulated on both the federal and state level and must be licensed by, and report to, both the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) and the Department.

Notices of Proposed Rulemaking

October 8, 2008, the USFWS amended regulatory language; eliminating the dual permitting system and transferring falconry permit administration to the individual states.

In order to continue permitting the sport of falconry using Migratory Bird Treaty Act species (MBTA), the Department must submit the amended rule, all applicable statutes, and procedures to USFWS for review and certification by January 1, 2014. On this date, federal falconry permitting will cease to exist. Any state that is not certified by USFWS prior to this date will not be able to allow individuals to capture or hold MBTA species for the purpose of Sport Falconry. If USFWS certification is not received, individuals possessing an MBTA raptor held for falconry in this state must permanently release into the wild, euthanize, or transfer their raptor to a licensed falconer in a certified state or jurisdiction, a captive propagation program, or the Department.

The Commission proposes to amend R12-4-422 to comply with amendments made to the federal regulations, which include amending possession and take allowances, facility requirements, requirements related to acquisition, hacking, reporting, transfer, use of and disposal of raptors.

In many cases, amendments to the rule result in the reduction of the regulatory burden on falconers. In addition, the elimination of the dual permitting system will further reduce the regulatory burden.

Under 50 CFR 20.21(b)(1)(iii), a state's rules may be more restrictive than the federal regulations; however, state rules must comply with the federal regulations. The proposed rule is more restrictive in requiring a reinspection when a falconer changes address and the Department cannot verify that the facility at the new location is the same as the one approved by a prior inspection. A reinspection is also proposed when a falconer acquires additional raptors and the previous inspection does not indicate the facilities can accommodate a new species or additional raptors.

At this time, there are approximately 107 licensed falconers in Arizona and many licensees can have up to three raptors under their Arizona Sport Falconry License. While not all of these raptors are MBTA species, it is safe to estimate that there are close to 250 MBTA raptors used for falconry in Arizona. If USFWS certification is not received, individuals possessing an MBTA raptor held for falconry in this state must permanently release, euthanize, or transfer their raptor to a licensed falconer in certified state or jurisdiction, a captive propagation program, or the Department. Failure to amend the current rule in a timely manner will result in a federal sanction and a tremendous liability for the state attributable to the anticipated losses suffered by the falconry community.

In addition, the proposed rule reduces the burden on the individuals currently regulated under the rule. Individuals regulated by the rule support the Department's rulemaking.

- 6. A reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either proposes to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rules, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

Not applicable

- 7. A showing of good cause why the rule is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rule shall diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state:

Not applicable

- 8. The preliminary summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The Department does not anticipate that proposed rulemaking will have a significant impact on the general public, small businesses, or political subdivisions. While actual costs and benefits from the proposed rulemaking are not readily quantifiable, the Department anticipates an increase in administrative costs for the Department's sport falconry license program.

The Department anticipates most falconers will experience an overall financial benefit from revision of this rule, from the elimination of the federal sport falconry permit, representing a $100 savings.

The Department anticipates the requirement for a nonresident falconer to apply for an Arizona Sport Falconry License when remaining in the state for more than 90 consecutive days will result in a very small increase in state revenue. However, this increase in revenue and the impact to falconers is anticipated to be nearly insignificant because of the small number of nonresident falconers anticipated to remain in the state for longer than the 90-day period.

The Department anticipates the proposed rulemaking will reduce regulatory burden and remove duplicative falconer administrative paperwork generated by the current dual federal and state permitting system. Similarly for the Department, the revised rule may increase administrative and law enforcement costs, but it will also ensure the continuation of revenue from license sales and avoid a federal sanction and a tremendous liability for the state, attributable to the anticipated losses suffered by the falconry community.

- 9. The name and address of agency personnel with whom persons may communicate regarding the accuracy of the economic, small business, and consumer impact statement:

- ~~N. If any raptor used in falconry incidentally kills any species of wildlife for which there is no open season or for which the season is closed, the licensee shall not take the dead wildlife into possession. The licensee shall leave the wildlife where it lies, but may allow the raptor making the kill to feed on the dead wildlife before leaving the site.~~
- ~~O. Licensees may transfer raptors taken from the wild in Arizona to an Arizona resident's federal raptor propagation license, with the concurrence of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.~~
- ~~P. A licensee shall not transfer a raptor taken from the wild in Arizona to another falconer or raptor breeder licensed outside of Arizona, or export the raptor from the state, without written authorization from the Department. The Department shall not authorize exportation transactions involving more than two raptors taken from the wild in Arizona, singly or in combination, per licensee in any calendar year. The Department shall deny any request for authorization of exportation when the number or species which have been or are being exported is not in the best interest of raptor management.~~
- ~~Q. A licensee may place a raptor or raptors listed in 50 CFR Part 10.13 in temporary facilities, under the care of another licensee, for a period not to exceed 30 days, providing that the licensee completes a Form 3-186A naming the temporary caregiver as the recipient and provides the raptor to the temporary caregiver to retain at the location where the raptor is being held.
